Meeting for Business
January 7, 2017

No Meeting was held as scheduled. Regular business will be carried over to February 11.

The RCCR building is experiencing failures with its heating system and the building was too uncomfortable. We contacted Debra Payne again, and the problem is with a heating unit that appears to be undersized. She responded that they hope to have booster installed that will keep the building warm in severe cold snaps.

We did take a few minutes to look over the books Charles suggested keep in our library. He had done a serious culling of our collection, and Nate, Karen, and Roger made a couple of substitutions. The rest will be boxed and offered at the Free Book Table at SAYMA in June.
